crimes in Barking and Dagenham will be worryingly looking over their shoulder after the council launched its 'Wall of Shame'. The 'Wall of Shame' is an online page with videos of culprits caught on camera fly-tipping. Concerned Barking and Dagenham Council identify the suspects.

Fly-tipping in 2016/17 cost Barking and Dagenham £384,304.

Leader of the council, Darren Rodwell, said: "Just recently our enforcement teams have dealt with over 3,000 grime crime cases to help clean up the borough, so that just gives an idea of the scale of the problem.

"The Wall of Shame is a way everyone can help do their bit. If you see someone you know doing something they shouldn't, tell us

The wall – which is now live – is not the only way the council has been fighting grime.

Barking Recently Dagenham became one of the first councils in England to be granted an injunction against illegal encampments, which covers fly-

In the 18 months prior to the injunction the council and local council has also issued 1,337 fines for enviro-crimes, and dealt with 1,600 reports of eyesore gardens. Councillor Laila Butt said: "We are doing everything in our power to ensure anti-social behaviour is dealt with in the strongest possible way by our enforcement team.

"The Wall of Shame demonstrates we take this seriously and the record speaks for itself.

"We know we have some way to go but we want to have one of the cleanest boroughs in London. Our message is loud and clear - we will clamp down on any offenders and take the strongest possible action."

IDRIS Elba is to lay a com-memorative paving stone out-side Barking and Dagenham College.

Last week Idris Elba was hon-oured at the MOBO awards for his contribution to British culture with the Paving The Way

The award see recipients pay tribute to the areas and institutions that inspired them on the start of their journeys, they are given the paving stone to lay at the place of their choosing.

Speaking to ITV news, at the red carpet event for his new film 'Molly's Game', Idris Elba confirmed he will lay his outside the college where he studied performing arts in the

He said: "Education is the key to almost everything in life. Without my education I would-n't have been here today."

"I want it to lead towards people thinking, you know what, I might go to college and learn a new skill and move forward."

Affordable housing in Barking

OVER 200 of the "most affordable homes in London" are being built in Barking as part of an ongoing regeneration of the area claim housing developer L&Q.

vellowad.co.uk

L&Q will build 221 shared ownership homes at Weavers Quarter in Barking as part of a wider development of 1575 new homes that will be available on the former Gascoigne Estate site.

The development will include two new schools, a public open space, and a new community centre.

Weavers Quarter shared ownership homes will start from £71,250 for a 30% share of a one-bedroom apartment with a full market value of £237.500.

They will be available to those who live or work in the borough of Barking and Dagenham, recently listed by HM Land Registry as one of the most affordable boroughs in London.

Tony Harker, sales and customer service director for L&Q's East Region, said: "Barking and Dagenham is the yellowad.co.uk

London borough with the most Shared Ownership homes currently under construction, and we are pleased to be able to offer high quality affordable homes in this borough.

Councillor Dominic Twomey, cabinet member for finance, growth & investment, said: "These shared ownership homes are an amazing opportunity for local people to secure a new home.

"They're a real bargain for those who want to take a first step on the property ladder and a vital part of the housing offer we are making to residents across the borough.'

The name Weavers Quarters harks back to the Barking Jute Works, closed in 1891, at the time reputed to be the largest factory in the UK.
